Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 1-2, 4-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 1 recites first and second flange means that prevent the disk movement. However, the flanges cannot function without a back cover. On line 4 of claim 1, "first integral flange means" should be "a first integral flange means." In addition, the term "the plane" should be "a plane" on line 5 of claim 1. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 4-5 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Noga et al (US 6,112,901). Noga et al. discloses a holding case as shown in Figures 5-6. The case has a lid 51b and a frame member made up of base 51a and 52. A first flange means 52c and a second flange means 52d are formed on the frame member. The second flanges means has closed slits 52e to make the second flange means elastic or flexible.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: ***

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 2 is finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Noga et al. or in view of Mundt et al. (US 6,112,901). Noga et al. does not specifically disclose as to whether first flange means is resilient. However, Mundt et al. teaches, as an example, flexible flange means in a frame member located opposite to one another. Similarly, Noga et al. can make the first flange means flexible to facilitate insertion and removal of the content.

6. Claim 6 is finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Noga et al. in view of Long et al. (US 5,246,107). Noga et al. does not disclose a latch mechanism. But Long et al. shows a compact disc storage unit with a latch mechanism 36,38 to allow the front cover to be closed by a snap-fit and released in the same manner. Hence, it would have been obvious in view of Long et al. to provide the latch mechanism to secure the article within the carrier.

7. Claim 7 is finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Noga et al. in view of Official Notice. It would have been obvious to place the carrier of Noga et al. in a sleeve to protect the carrier from dust or scratch.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
